Issue 5 – January 2007

Introduction

Happy New Year to you and welcome to the fifth issue of Europe Matters.

As the Welsh Assembly Government is consulting on the draft regional competitiveness and employment programmes for East Wales, at its next meeting, the European and External Affairs Committee will be discussing their plans on how to spend the estimated £200 million investment package. We will also be hearing from the RSPB about their experiences in making use of EU funds for environmental projects and opportunities in the 2007-2013 round of programmes.

Last week, the EIN and EPC Committee launched a joint consultation on the Green Paper on a future EU Maritime Policy. The two Committees will formally consider it in a joint session of their Committees on 8 March. The development of a new EU policy could open up some significant opportunities to Wales, as I and my fellow members from the European and External Affairs Committee discussed with Commissioner for Maritime Policy, Joe Borg during our visit to Brussels last February. I would encourage you to respond to the Committees' consultation.

Over the coming weeks, each Committee will be looking at the European Commission's work programme for 2007 and the Welsh Assembly Government's analysis of it. The Committees will identify items of potential significance to Wales for further scrutiny which may be taken forward in the Third Assembly from May 2007.

If you would like any further information about the European work of the Committees, please get in touch.

Sandy Mewies
Chair of the European and External Affairs Committee
